Microsoft SharePoint Designer 2013 (SP13Designer)

About this course:

The 2013 MS SharePoint Designer offers a code-free environment for accessing datatypes and creating custom SharePoint apps. It enables quick development of SharePoint workflows to satisfy the unique requirements of a company. Before SharePoint Designer, MS Visual Basic was used to build several custom SharePoint software. With a no-code interface that can be incorporated with MS Visio 2013, SharePoint Designer streamlines the process to influence workflow shapes easily. In this online training program, students will develop and report custom SharePoint workflows without code utilizing the SharePoint Designer 2013.

Course Objective:

In this online training program, Students will customize datatypes, integrate data sources, and design workflows in SharePoint Designer to design organized business operations without code. After completion of this online training, Students have an expertise to:

- Use SharePoint Workflow platform to create workflow
