

Microsoft's New Role-based Azure Certifications

Modality: On Demand

Duration: 30 Min

About this Course:

Microsoft has announced a few new certifications that focus on roles and not technologies.

These courses will prepare candidates by teaching the required skills rather than technologies. The first set of role-based certifications will center on Azure job including Azure Developer, Azure Solutions Architect, and Azure Administrator.

Audiences:

The target audience for this course is:

- Information Technology professionals
- Candidates with basic knowledge and skills related to Microsoft Azure

Course Outline:

- A better way to prepare learners for careers, shifting the focus from technologies to the skills needed for specific job roles. The first role-based certifications to go live will be Azure job roles: Azure Developer, Azure Administrator, and Azure Solutions Architect.